Abstract

Changes of Ideas and Migrations. The case study of «la Repubblica»

Cultural changes are the result of the interweaving of multiple aspects of social systems including forms and ways of communicating. No doubt in the history of mankind transformations influencing cultural systems of societies were strongly influenced by migrations. In light of this we will try and highlight what kind of relationship between these two phenomena can significantly affect the daily life of individuals nowadays. The present contribution analyzes the effects on the cultural changes of the binomial communication-migration in relation with the case study of the newspaper «la Repubblica».

Keywords: communication; frame; migrations; social representation; thought systems.
